GOVERNOR ON THE STAND

Aycock Proves the Character of Witnesses R. N. Semmes and Willis G. Briggs-Young Baltimore Man Tells of Shooting.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 5 .- In the trial Ernest Haywood for the killing of Ludlow Skinner, three important witnesses for the defense-R. N. Sims, well known lawyer: Willis G. Briggs, young of Baltimore-were examined, the testimony of these, together with a large number of character witnesses, consumed the entire day's session.

between Haywood and Skinner. He said he saw Haywood and Skinner being to Sims (Skinner was left-handed).

WHEN SHOT WAS FIRED.

Willis G. Brigsg testified that he was talking with Sims at the time the shooting occurred, his back being toward the scene of the shooting, so he saw nothing until after the first shot. He said the pistol shot caused me to look around. As I turned to south the first thing attracted my attention was Mr Skinner leaving the sidewalk. He was on the grass plot. Skinner's back was rather towards me as he was leaving the sidewalk. He turned his head towards me. At that time Haywood was a short distance from the parapet, shout on a line with me. I saw the pistol extended and the flash of the second shot. When I looked back Skinner was near the street car track, about two-thirds the distance to curb to track. He was going in northeast direction. He passed over the wagon between me and Skinner when he crossed the track. I saw him when he fell, first on his knees, then his face; fell on the rail. Slightly turning of Skinner's head caused me to look back to Haywood.

to Haywood. STRUCK HAYWOOD. Bernard B. Schmitz, of Baltimore, tes-ified that while at the Citizens' Bank corner with C. B. Hocutt he saw Skinner Bernard S. Schmitz, of Baltimore, testifled that while at the Clitzens' Bank corner with C. B. Hocutt he saw Skmner have Haywood by the lapel of his coat.
Then Bisnner struck Haywood, who fell back toward the postoffice. Skinner then sprang back about eight feet. His left hand was to his hip pocket. He took two or three steps toward Haywood as though to renew the attack.' Then the first shot was fired by Haywood and Skinner staggered. He was about where the flagging and the grass plot joins.
The cross examination of Schmitz was very rigid, effort being made to break down his character.

Later the defense introduced affidavits
from Governor Smith, of Maryland;
Mayor McLane, of Baltimore; Judge
Hinsler, Congressman Denny, Wachter, and a large number of other prominent Marylanders, all testifying to the high character of Schmitz.
The characters of R. N. Sims and Willis G. Briggs were proven by Governor Aycock, Judge Connor and a large number of the most prominent men in the city.

NORTH CAROLINA TOBACCO

Annual Meeting of the Winston Asso-

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 5.—The Winston Tobacco Association held its sunual meeting this afternoon. President A. M. Coleman was re-elected, J. R. Green was chosen vice-president, Z. T. Bynum was re-elected secretary and treasurer and supervisor of sales, In his annual report, President Coleman says last year's crop "is conceded to have been the best grown in ten years, and that the average price paid for it should be a sufficient guarantee to the farmers that a crop of tobacco of good quality will always pay them a profit over cost of production.

we do not endorse. To us she seems not the rude skeleton of the modern poet of materialism, but rather "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." At this season, when even nature is radiant in autumnal tints, the rich, mellow blendings of rare color combinations surely "add a perfume to the rose." A season richer in tone and tint we have never seen. Entire suits of the same material is the rule, and the fabrics in mode vary like the seasons-brown, green and blue seem the favorite shadings, and rough and smooth faces each has its advocate. New and smart effects come all the way from 50c. to $2.50 the yard.

Silk and Lace Bands are in vogue for dressy garniture, Even-Etamines, Albatross, and even the homely Cotton Crepons form Street service affords scope for serene as well as savage riot in colors. The Corded Velvets are about the most wear-resisting surfaces, and they come in all shadings. Smooth surface nonpareil effects in Velveteen are very modish and correct. Black is easily prime favorite.

As to the new crop, the reports are not so favorable as they were before it began to ripen, and it does not seem to be curing as well as the growth in the field would indicate. There seems to be a lack of body, and the yield per acree is said to be far below that of list year. President Coleman referred to the proposed tobacco exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition, and impressed upon the association the importance of a creditable exhibit from the most important tobacco producing and tobacco manufacturing State in the Union.

THE FEDERAL COURT

Greensboro to Vote To-Day on a Big Bond Issue, (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 5,-The federal Court convened this morning. There are 114 criminal cases on the docket, mostly against distillers for fraud against the government. Several indictments are against storeke pers and gaugers for collusion with owners.

The most important cases on the docket are two against John L. Casper Co., of Winston, These cases are attracting more consideration than usual just now, because of the fact that Mr. J. Wiley Schook, who has just left the revenue service, has located in Winston to practice law, and is the regularly retained attorney for the Casper Company at a reported large annual salary. His management of these cases this week is looked forward to with much interest. In addition to the regular criminal docket, there are 118 suits entered on bonds of distillers.

The North Carolina Industrial Association has secured the services of Booker T. Washington to speak at the educational rally to be held at the State Negro Fair on Education Day, October 30, 1903.

There is to be a very important election to mergrow on the question of voting

Seaboard and Roanoke has absolutely no significance, and that no affort will at this time be made to perfect its merger with the remainder of the Seaboard system, of which it is at present a most important actual physical part, although it has never been legally merged with the other properties. The meeting will, in all probability, be adjourned until a later date.

It is understood that the actual merger of the Seaboard and Roanoke, which was formerly the parent road of the big Seaboard system, is held up by a comparatively small interest, and that this will scarcely be acquired in time to effect any merger at this year's annual meeting.

RELEANE DEEDS FILED.

The release deeds, accomplishing the dissolution of the street railway interests of the Williams syndicate and the house of Alexander Brown and Sons, of Baltimore, went to record to-day in the clerk's office of the Norfolk County Court.

They were filed by Judge D. Tucker Brooke, counsel for W. J. Payne, president of the Peninsula roads, which drow out of the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News Company.

The deeds are from the Richmond Trust and Safo Deposit Company, and release the property and securities pledged under a deed of trust to secure an issue of two million dollars of income bonds, issued June 30, 1962.

The consideration named in the release deed is five dollars and "the premises." This deed releases to their former owners the securities controlling the Newport News. No mention is made in the deea of the Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company, and the Company, and Electric Company and the Consumers' Light, Gas and Ice Company, of Newport News. No mention is made in the deea of the Norfolk and Atlantic Terminal Company, another of the Brown properties which withdrew from the Williams syndicate, but which has been for some time past in the hands of its former owners. The reason for this is that the securities controlling this property were never actually in possession of the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News Company, but were retained by th This Morning.

A helper named H. S. Whiting, employed by Contractor N. E. Ancarrow, was killed yesterday morning by injuries sustained through a fall from a building at Fifth and Byrd Streets.

In his fall his head and Jaw were struck by beams, and upon examination by the coroner the man's neck was found to have been broken. No inquest was held, and the body was prepared for burial by Richardson and Chappell.

Mr. Whiting was forty-five years old. He was a native of Ontario, Canada. He pursued the business of plane salesman and occasionally helped Mr. Ancarrow. He was known as a sober, attentive and polite man, well educated. He was a widower, with no children.

The funeral will be at Oakwood at 9 o'clock this morning. Friends of the dead man have made all arrangements for the burial. therefore, no return of securities was necessary.

The Williams Company still retains $200,000 interest in the Newport News and Old Point Rallway. These securities were secured outside the terms of the deed of trust, and are exempted from its provisions. There will be immediately turned over to the owners of the Pennsylvania lines 10,736 shares of the common capital stock of this company, representing the absolute ownership, and to the Consumers' Light, Gas and Ice Company $450,000 of its shares. The deed will be recorded in Norfolk and Newport News, in Warwick county and in Elizabeth City county.
